TRIP OF THE OHIO COUNTY TEACHERS

And Others Who Took in Sights Last Week.

A FINE JOURNEY RECOUNTED

Embracing Several Points of Interest and Profit to All Who Went.

WERE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

Green Brier, Ky., Oct. 23, 1911. Editors Hartford Herald, Hartford, Ky.:—According to promise, will give you a brief outline of the "Teachers' Trip" and a few of the many interesting incidents and events of the same.

As had been previously announced, our excursion train reached Hartford at 7 a. m., having on board quite a number who had gotten on at Centertown. At Hartford over a hundred were in waiting, still others were taken up at Dukehurst, Dundee and Ellmitch and when the final count was made of the occupants of the four special coaches for the trip, it was found to be a total of 207, composed of about 100 teachers, two members of the county board, ten local trustees and nearly 100 other folks, both young and old, from practically every part of the county who had joined the teachers on their excursion and whom the teachers and trustees were delighted to have as traveling companions.

The journey to Louisville was very pleasant. The rain had ceased, the clouds were gone and we doubt seriously if a more congenial, happy and enthusiastic party ever entered the metropolis of our State, than those who alighted in the Tenth Street Station at one p. m. wearing a silken badge upon which was inscribed "Ohio County Teachers."

We were met at the station by a committee from the city schools and the Publicity League, our baggage was immediately sent to the Galt House, which was to be our stopping place, and we were escorted to street cars which were in waiting and taken in two different groups to several schools of the city, which were inspected with very much interest and profit by all the members of our party.

At night a very enjoyable "Social Meeting" was given us, closing with a very delightful banquet at the Galt House, which was highly enjoyed by all the members of our party who had withstood the temptation to visit Mccauley's, the Mary Anderson, etc.

The next morning we divided up into small groups, and visited schools, Masonic Orphans Home, Courier-Journal building, Jeffersonville, various parks, Democratic and Republican Headquarters and many other places of interest in and about the city.

A list of the largest schools of the city had been printed, giving the location of same and the name of the principal teacher. These lists were given each member of our party, that we might the more easily find the particular school we desired to visit. We would say just here in closing this part of our story that we were treated nicely and courteously by all with whom we came in contact in the city, but the royal welcome given and many favors shown us by Prof. J. W. Holland, City Superintendent of Schools, and Hon. R. W. Brown, President of the Publicity League, and those working with them, were far beyond our expectations, and will be remembered with fond recollections, as long as life lasts.

At 3 p. m. Wednesday we started on the next part of our journey, our goal being the Mammoth Cave. Arriving at Glasgow Junction a little after five, we left the main L. & N. road and took passage on the 9-mile short-line running from Glasgow to the Cave. We reached the Cave a little after six and after a hearty supper and short rest, we donned our uniforms and started on our exploration of Kentucky's greatest natural wonder, going the short route that night. Before starting we were divided into four parties or groups, about 50 in each party, so that we might the better appreciate and enjoy the sights of the Cave and be near enough to the guide to get the benefit of his explanations, advice and suggestions.

Thursday, dividing into groups as we did the night before, we made the long route, so full of wonder and of beauty.

To attempt to describe the many wonders and beauties of this greatest of all subterranean caverns, would be futile, but suffice it to say that we may forget many of the things we saw on the trip; other things will grow dim on memory's page as the days go by, but we will never forget the hearty and grandeur of those yawning pits and towering domes, the beauties of "starry chamber," the enchanting and entrancing properties of "Echo River"; these and many other places of more than passing interest, coupled with the thought of the immensity, the magnitude, and the sublimity of the cavern as a whole, left an impress upon our memories which time can never efface.

In closing this part of our broken story, we wish to say that the hotel proprietors, the guides and all those with whom we came in contact, treated us with the greatest courtesy and respect, trying in every way possible to make our stay pleasant, for which we are very grateful. Thursday evening with many regrets at leaving, we bade good-bye to the Cave and its officials and started for the third stop of our journey—Bowling Green.

We arrived a little after six, being met at the station by a committee from the W. K. State Normal, who took charge of our baggage, took us to the Potter Hotel, where a bountiful supper was in waiting, after which those who could not be accommodated at the hotel were taken to private homes that had been previously engaged for the visitors. Beginning at 8 p. m. a very enjoyable entertainment was given at the Auditorium of the new Normal building. Addresses of welcome were made by Prof. H. H. Cherry in behalf of the Normal, Prof. T. C. Cherry in behalf of the city schools, Prof. J. S. Dickey in behalf of the Business School, Prof. —White, Superintendent of Warren county, interspersed with music by Prof. Franz J. Strahm and his choir, after which a very fitting and appropriate response was made by Prof. W. R. Carson on part and in behalf of the visitors. After the speech-making was over, refreshments were served to all, while many of the young folks enjoyed themselves by engaging in various games.

All in all, it was a very pleasant evening and certainly appreciated and enjoyed by the visitors. Friday morning was spent in visiting the different departments, class rooms, business college, city schools, Reservoir, Park, and many other places of interest in and around Bowling Green.

We were expecting some recognition, but were hardly expecting the royal reception and so much generous, good old-fashioned Kentucky hospitality that greeted us on every hand by school officials and citizens alike. It seemed that every one was determined to make our last stop on our journey the most pleasant of all.

But finally 3 p. m. Friday evening arrived, we bade good-bye to Bowling Green and started on the last lap of our journey—home—arriving at Hartford at 7 p. m.

Now Messrs. Editors, I have given you a brief though broken outline of the teachers' trip, which I trust will not bore you and your readers very much, and if you deem this worthy of publication, I wish to beg of you a little space next week in order to speak of some incidents of the trip, which I have not the time now to mention but which to leave out altogether would be to leave my story less than half complete.

THE HERALD AND MR. C. E. WOODS

In Which Former Makes Amende Honorable

FOR PRINTING ROSS LETTER

Explanation of What Brought About An Unpleasant Incident.

THE HERALD IS ALWAYS FAIR

Several months ago (Aug. 23) in commenting on Judge O'Rear's opening speech at Elizabethtown in which he said that there are 70,000 voters in Kentucky who annually sell their votes, The Herald, in a two-inch editorial, disclaimed this allegation as unjust in its sweeping charge and unfair to all voters alike. About two weeks later we received a communication from Mr. C. E. Woods, of Richmond, Ky., in which he took issue with us and claimed that Judge O'Rear was not only right, but that he (Woods) thought the estimate of "floaters" in Kentucky ought to be increased to 150,000, as he had heard it said that in his own county of Madison there were 1,500 men who sold their suffrage. We received Mr. Woods' article too late to print in the issue of that week, but were surprised to see that he had furnished our local contemporary, the Hartford Republican, with the identical article, which they printed in their regular Friday issue. We printed his article, however, quoting the law against both the buyer and the seller of votes, and invited Mr. Woods and Judge O'Rear to go after the malefactors and thus verify their bold charge. We assured Mr. Woods that, as the controversy was between himself and ourselves, it was unnecessary and a reflection upon our journalistic courtesy for him to send his articles to both papers, and he was offered space for reply.

A week or two later, but again too late and too long for our current issue, we received another communication from Mr. Woods of a very lengthy and voluminous nature. We made editorial note of it, saying it would appear in our next issue. Again we were surprised and this time dumbfounded, upon opening the issue of the Hartford Republican on Friday, to find the identical article of Mr. Woods again displayed in its columns, after our assurance that what he sent us would be printed. The articles were mailed at such dates as to reach them, but not us, in time for publication. We felt hurt at these unkind methods and intimidated as much.

In his second article, which occupied about five columns, Mr. Woods devoted about one-fifth of his message to a reply to our invitation to punish the alleged voters, and all the balance of it was taken up in a severe and caustic arraignment of the political record of ex-Gov. James B. McCreary. Seeing that Mr. Woods had jumped the original subject, we replied to him at some length in the same issue, but said that inasmuch as he persisted in sending the same articles to both papers here, we could not afford to be reprinting after our contemporaries each week, especially as the articles were principally an attack upon Mr. McCreary. However, we told Mr. Woods that at any time he wished to confine himself to the initial subject, to come ahead, and that we would "be glad to entertain him with any reasonable space."

In the meantime, however, in our next issue, appeared an article written by Mr. James M. Ross, under the pen name of "Fair Play," in which the author attacked the political record of Mr. C. E. Woods, presumably in an effort to defend Mr. McCreary by showing up Mr. Woods' record. The Herald did not, editorially or otherwise, endorse this article, but merely said: "We have always tried to be fair in all editorial dealings, and of course will allow Mr. Woods a like amount of space to reply to said article." That was in our issue of September 27, copy of which we sent Mr. Woods. Mr. Ross had said in his article that we were at liberty to reveal his real name at any time, which we stood ready to do.

We heard nothing from Mr.

Woods until over two weeks later we received a letter from him (dated Oct. 14) in which he seemed very much incensed towards "Fair Play" and asked us to publish the latter's real name, threatening to come to Hartford and show him up. We printed Mr. Ross's name, as requested and in the same (our last) issue stated our position in the premises, saying we had given space for Mr. Ross's article without any malice whatever against Mr. Woods and wholly without any purpose to injure the latter in any way.

On Wednesday morning (the day of our last issue) there appeared in the daily press a special dated at Richmond which said that Mr. C. E. Woods, of that city, had engaged attorneys to bring suit against the editors of The Herald for an alleged defamatory article against Mr. Woods which had appeared in our issue of September 27—evidently meaning the attack of Mr. Ross. The next day we received a letter from Mr. Woods' attorneys, Messrs. Chenault & Wallace, saying they were preparing to bring suit for damages for Mr. Woods, unless proper reparation were made. In the same letter were testimonials from the editors of Richmond papers and also one from Judge John C. Chenault, testifying to the excellent character of Mr. Woods and refuting the charges of Mr. Ross, embraced in his article over the name of "Fair Play." These testimonials follow:

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 16, 1911.
Hon. Clarence E. Woods, Richmond, Ky., My Dear Sir:—I have read the article signed "Fair Play" in the Hartford, (Ky.) Herald of Sept. 27, and I pronounce its statements as to your being a "Gold Man" and that I hired you to write Free Silver editorials, as a straight-out lie!

You were always a straight Democrat, a loyal Bryan supporter, and when you left the Register it passed into the ranks of the Gold Bug element of our party at that time.

Other statements by "Fair Play" are equally untrue, slanderous and defamatory, and should be immediately withdrawn.

Your friend,
JOHN C. CHENAULT,
Ex-County Judge.

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 16, 1911.
My Dear Mr. Woods:—I have read with surprise the articles signed "Fair Play" in the Hartford Herald of Sept. 27. It is but an echo of a similar article published in Bowling Green in 1910, and which was later withdrawn when its author was made acquainted with the injustice done you. Messrs. W. B. Haldeman, Ed. Shinnick and myself were present when this latter incident was amicably closed.

And here comes "Fair Play" in the Hartford Herald, reiterating these exploded charges, and adding others equally or more slanderous and untrue.

As I was personally acquainted with every incident which "Fair Play" testifies that he does not in any single particular state the truth.

As to your record here as Mayor, my paper and the other five papers in this county are records of the great work you performed for this community. No act of yours ever merited or received criticism, but only praise. Where you seemed extreme, it was always on the side of honesty, law and order. Your enemies are such as every officer has for doing his duty.

I never refused to publish anything from your pen in my life. I was associated with you for many years, and neither in politics, business or otherwise, did you do an act inconsistent with an enlightened conscience and a brave heart.

Your friend,
A. D. MILLER,
Proprietor Richmond Climax.

I endorse the above.

THOS. H. PICKELS,

Editor Kentucky Register.

Have known Mr. C. E. Woods for the ten years I have owned the Pantagraph, which period includes his term as Mayor of Richmond; and throughout all that period although differing politically, have admired him for his unselfish patriotism, his splendid courage at every call of duty, and above all, for the enlightened conscience and unpurchasable honor that make the highest type of official and gentleman.

E. B. SMITH,
Editor and Proprietor Pantagraph.

Oct. 16, 1911.
We have but to reiterate that we have never at any time intended to do Mr. Woods an injustice in any way, either with printer's ink or by pen. In a recent issue (Sept. 6)

we editorially referred to him as "a scholar and a gentleman in all those terms imply," and we have never yet changed the import or meaning of our opinion. In the present unpleasant incident, started by Mr. Woods himself, we have aimed to be fair with him in every way. In the light of the above testimonials, which we have no reason to doubt, we feel that he has been done an injustice at the hands of Mr. Ross, and for the publication of the latter's article, in that it reflects upon Mr. Woods's political or personal character, we offer our apologies. As we have not given our editorial columns to abuse or misrepresentation of Mr. Woods, we have nothing in that line to retract. We are sorry that Mr. Woods felt sufficiently offended at us to rush to the courts before giving us a chance of explanation or amends, for he never had two better personal friends than the editors of The Herald. We hope he will accept our amende honorable and that we will yet be friends as of yore.

We have received a letter from Mr. James M. Ross at Greenville, Ky., in which he says he has written Mr. Woods, assuming full responsibility for what was contained in his article in The Herald.

On Monday we received a letter from Mr. Ross, whom we have regarded as a gentleman in the fullest sense of the word, only seeking to defend his old friend McCreary from an unwarranted attack, in which he says for us to say that what he wrote had been told him by reliable parties, that he wrote it fully believing it, but that if he had done Mr. Woods an injustice, he regretted the circumstance very much. Mr. Ross came here from Madisonville, a stranger to our citizens, but his integrity was vouched for by the Hartford Republican, with which paper he was connected in a business capacity for several months and in whose employ he was when he wrote the articles for the Herald.

This rather lengthy explanation is offered to show just what brought about an unpleasant incident, and to show how we have tried at all times to be fair with Mr. Woods and all concerned.

A. J. WILSON GOES INTO VOLUNTARY BANKRUPTCY

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the office of the federal clerk, at Owensboro, by Addison J. Wilson, formerly cashier of the Fordsville Banking Company, in which the petitioner places his liabilities at $45,955.60 and his assets at $2,300.

The greater part of the indebtedness is on notes which the cashier of the liquidated bank gave to different banks in Kentucky and Tennessee and on nearly all of these notes Morris and Claude Wilson are the sureties. None of the Owensboro banks appear in the list of creditors. Some of the notes are secured by telephone stock as collateral.

The petitioner is a married man and claims the usual exemptions allowed under the federal bankrupt laws.

CENTERTOWN.

Oct. 23.—Esq. Jackson held court here Saturday.

Matanzas O. E. S. Chapter rendered a beautiful play here Saturday night which was highly enjoyed by all present.

Several from here have been attending court at Hartford the past week.

Mr. W. B. McLean, near town, has sold his farm to Thomas Minton. Mr. McLean is thinking of moving to town.

Work on the new school building is progressing rapidly.

Several teachers and patrons of this community went on the teachers' excursion to Louisville last week.

Miners Will Demand Increase.

Bridgeport, O., Oct. 21.—The United Mine Workers of America will demand an increase in wages next spring, according to Tom Lewis, former president of the miners, and a candidate for re-election. An increase of 25 cents per ton for machine mined coal and 5 cents per ton for pig coal will be asked, says Lewis.

The Meat Hunters.

A man in Massachusetts, about to be married, discovered that he had a license to hunt deer instead of a marriage license. There really is little difference. A marriage license requires a man to hunt meat the remainder of his days.—[Frankfort News-Journal.

GROSS SLANDER OF GEN. HALEY

By Judge O'Rear in Munfordville Speech

CALLS FOR CURT RETRACTION

Or Is It Really the Amende Honorable for Such An Insult?

LOUISVILLE POST CORRECTS IT

In his speech at Munfordville, last week, Judge E. C. O'Rear was quoted as referring to Gen. Percy Haly, of Frankfort, as follows:

"Gen. Percy Haly who is the editor of that department of the Democratic press bureau, is in the paid employ to-day of the millionaire who is backing the Democratic campaign with his funds in Kentucky. He is the same man that a few years ago wrote the famous letters which exposed the fact that they were fooling the people in the country and dealing with the people in the cities on the opposite side; and when his perfidy was exposed, he denounced the man that did it in a libelous article and was subsequently brought before a grand jury and tried for publishing that libel, and was found guilty and convicted."

Judge O'Rear's attention was called to this excerpt from his speech and he sent the following telegram from Danville:

"Danville, Ky., Oct. 20.—I did not mean to imply that General Haly had been indicted for libel, but that a judgment went against him in a civil suit of that nature instituted in Anderson county, by Gaines. "ED. C. O'REAR."

There has never been any grand jury investigation, any indictment, trial or conviction of General Haly in connection with this Gaines case.

Noel Gaines, of Frankfort, sued General Haly and the Postal Telegraph Company, at Henderson. He sued Col. W. P. Walton and General Haly, in Frankfort, and sued the Frankfort State Journal, in Anderson county.

The Louisville Post, which printed the libel on Haly, made haste to correct and apologize for it, both in its news columns and upon its editorial page. But will Haly consider O'Rear's meagre telegram sufficient, is another question. If O'Rear was quoted correctly by friendly newspaper correspondents, one of whom, at least, is said to be in his personal employ, can his telegram from Danville be considered the amende honorable?

OHIO COUNTY TEACHERS PRAISED FOR THEIR TRIP

The Owensboro Inquirer says:

The school teachers of Ohio county are to be commended for the efforts they are making to qualify themselves for rendering the very best service possible in the work of their profession.

Last week they made a trip in a body to Louisville in order to glean ideas from the schools of the chief city of the State that would be profitable to them in their schools in the towns and country neighborhoods of Ohio county. They went from Louisville to Bowling Green, where they studied the methods of the State Normal and the city schools.

This visit cannot fail to do a two-fold good. It will be of great advantage to the Ohio county teachers, because they have obtained new and up-to-date ideas in school government, instruction of classes, best methods of conducting a recitation, etc., and it will inspire the schools visited to strive to attain to higher ideals because of a realization that they are examples for the guidance of the schools in the rural communities.

Receives $300 Damages.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 21.—While hanging out clothes some months ago, Mrs. Emma Nicholas was knocked unconscious in her back yard by a live wire. The clothesline touched a wire which had been blown down in a storm. For her injuries she brought suit against the city for big damages, but the case was finally settled to-day through her attorneys, and she will receive $300 from the city.

SOCIAL CENTER ACTIVITIES

The Louisville Times of Thursday says:

In groups ranging from four to ten, more than 200 school teachers and Trustees from the Ohio county schools visited the various ward and High Schools of Louisville this morning. They assembled in the lobby of the Galt House immediately after breakfast and were assigned to the schools where they preferred to go by Miss Caroline Kopmeier, supervising principal of the Louisville schools. The first party started before 8 o'clock for Long-fellow school.

Other sections visited the High Schools, Washington, Broadway, Lucia avenue, Second-ward, Nicholas Finzer, Normal, Jefferson, Tingler, Morris, Kentucky-street, Cochran, Monsarrat, Eighth-ward and Columbia schools.

A delegation of the School Trustees visited the Administration building for a conference with Samuel D. Jones, business director, who explained in minute detail the financial management of the Louisville schools and told the visitors many plans for saving money without impairing the school itself.

Prof. Henry Leach, Superintendent of the Ohio county schools, declared this morning that the visit of the Hartford teachers to Louisville was worth a hundred teachers' institutes. All the visitors, he said, had made copious notes of improvements and new features they can incorporate in their own schools and after a series of meetings in which they will discuss prospective improvements, Prof. Leach confidently expects his county to lead the honor roll of rural education in Kentucky.

"The most important thing we learned," he said, "was the visit to the social center meeting last night. We learned how easy it will be to install libraries and reading rooms in our schools, and how important it is for parents and teachers to hold occasional meetings. We were also made to realize the absurdity of allowing our school buildings to be locked up three-fourths of the time when they can be used for cultivating social purposes. Many of our teachers are already planning to introduce the social center idea in their own schools.

"We are certainly under many obligations to Prof. Holland and the officials of the Louisville schools, and especially to the Louisville Convention and Publicity League, which has contributed so much to our pleasure and entertainment while here."

At the Whittier school the visiting teachers were shown social center activities Tuesday night. An address on "School Here, There and Elsewhere," illustrated with pictures of schools in Virginia, Indiana and Kentucky, was given by James Speed; Mrs. John Miller, vice president of the League of Parent-Teachers' Association, gave a brief talk on "The Parent-Teachers' Association and What It Means;" and a resume of the reasons for "The Fuller Use of School Property," was given by Miss Pauline Wither-spoon.

Dr. I. N. Bloom, president of the Board of Education, spoke briefly, expressing his pleasure at the presence of the Ohio county teachers, and commenting upon the development of the "school spirit" not only in the cities, but throughout the entire State.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers. m

KENTUCKY IS FOR CLARK THINKS A. O. STANLEY

"Champ Clark is a native Kentuckian, and we like him down our way, and he probably will get the Kentucky delegation to the Democratic National Convention in 1912. Otherwise I do not wish to discuss candidates and national issues at this time."

This was the statement of Representative A. O. Stanley at the Congress Hall Hotel, where he is staying while in the city, last night. He expressed himself as confident that Kentucky would go Democratic in the fall campaign. He continued: "I am scheduled by the Democratic State Central Committee to make a campaign tour of my State in the interest of the ticket, and I can assure you that it is a pleasant task in view of the record that the Democratic House has made during the special session. I have likewise an abiding faith in the triumph of our party principles, State and national, and also an interest in the election of all the candidates."—[Washington Post.

GOVERNOR McCREARY IS AN AGGRESSIVE LEADER

Judge O'Rear believes that his fifty years equip him particularly for the position of Chief Executive of Kentucky. He modestly says that his mind is so admirably poised and his judgment so perfected that he will be able to give the people an ideal administration.

Senator McCreary has had all the fifty years experience that Judge O'Rear has had, and more on top of that as a true and tried public servant, associated with the great men of the country, and holding his own in any company in point of ability and integrity. He is old enough to be conservative when necessary, and young enough to be in touch with the progressive thought of the day. He knows the needs of this State as no other man knows them, and as he has no revenge to pay, no ambitions to satisfy, and no selfish interests to serve, he will be in a position to give to his duties the unselfish labors of his heart and brain.

Governor McCreary has not missed an appointment in this campaign. He has worn out every young man who attempted to follow him. He travels at night by preference, and morning finds him alert and aggressive, ready and eager to fight the battles of his party.

He has met every issue raised by the Republican party promptly, and with courage, and has shown an ability to take care of himself that has won the admiration of friend and foe alike. He has taken the lead in the spirited campaign that is being conducted throughout the State, and wherever he has gone, he has been a vigorous example to his fellow-candidates, and has inspired his hearers with the conviction that there is no way to defeat him.

While Judge O'Rear is pinning bouquets on himself because of his youth, Governor McCreary is reaping the reward that comes to one who has lived a blameless life, and who has won the affection of the whole people.

A Few Changes.

"Well, well," said the man who had wandered back to the old village. "So the Eagle House is still the Eagle House. No change after 20 years."

"There have been a few changes," responded the oldest inhabitant. "Since you've been gone the hotel has been respectively the Grand Central, the Grand Union, the Grand Junction, the Great Northern, the Great Southern, the Imperial, the Regal, the Empire, the Regent and the Mansion House. She's just starting around the circuit for the second time."

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer That Involves no Money
Risk if You Accept It.

We are so positive our remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is commonly caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Ordeles on our guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly good for children. They seem to act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on the other organs. They do not purge or cause other inconvenience. We will refund your money if they do not overcome chronic or habitual constipation and thus aid to relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Ordeles at our risk. Fiendish.

HIS VISITS TWO WEEKS APART

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Frantic appeals by the authorities of three cities were made to the Chicago police to-night to assist in the capture of a maniac who, within the last four weeks, has taken a murderous toll of 14 lives.

The mysterious trail of death began in Colorado Springs September 17. From there it led to Monmouth, Ill., on October 1, and last Sunday night the murderer visited the town of Ellsworth, Kan., satisfied his maniacal craving for human lives, and disappeared.

The murders were all committed on a Sunday night and two weeks apart. October 29, if the murderer maintains his schedule, will witness a repetition of the murders, and the police in the Central and Western cities have been notified to keep a strict watch for the criminal.

The murders ascribed to the maniac are:

Colorado Springs, September 17, Mrs. A. J. Burnham and two children and J. C. Wayne, his wife and child. Families murdered in their homes, their skulls crushed by a blunt instrument.

Monmouth, Ill., October 1, W. E. Dawson, wife and thirteen-year-old daughter Clara. The Dawson family was murdered in the house as they slept. Their skulls were crushed as though an axe or lead pipe had been the instrument of death.

Ellsworth, Kan., October 15, Will Showman, wife and three children—Lester, aged 7; Fern, aged 4, and Fenton, aged 2. They were all murdered in bed, and as in the previous murders, their skulls were crushed with a blunt weapon.

Not a clue has been obtained by the police of the three cities the maniac visited. The similarity of the crimes, their accomplishments on Sunday nights and the two weeks intervening between each murderous visit, alone, give the authorities a tangible working basis.

A bloody gas pipe and a small flashlight were found near the scene of the Dawson murders in Monmouth. An inscription on the searchlight read, "Colorado Springs, September 4."

This date may mark the time of a murder as yet undiscovered.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ELECTRICITY GROWS WOOL—AN EXPERIMENT

Prof. Silas Wentworth claims that on his experimental farm at Roseville, Cal., electricity has proved capable of doubling the production of lambs and greatly increasing the yield of wool. A flock of sheep was divided, one half being placed in a field under the power wires of an electric company, while the other portion was removed from electric influences. The fleeces of the sheep in the electrically influenced field were 20 per cent, heavier and lambs more than twice as numerous. This astonishing foreign office report suggests a new opportunity for investigation in our own country, where the effect of electricity on vegetation has been for some time receiving attention. The time may come when there will be a real market for cheap current in service of agriculture.—[Chicago Tribune.

GREATEST MEDICINE ON EARTH

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes:—"I was ill for 18 months with a pulmonary trouble, I had the best of doctors. I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all you recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

We want every one in this vicinity who is troubled with chronic coughs, or pulmonary troubles, come and get a bottle of Vinol.

If it does not go to the seat of trouble, it will beat the inflammation and stop the cough, we will cheerfully return every cent paid us for it. This shows our faith, and proves that you have no chances.

ALL TOBACCO IS CUT AND HOUSED

Large Per Cent Also Cured
In This District.

COKE IS PROVING SUCCESSFUL

As a Curing Agent—Estimated
30,000,000 Pounds Has Been Housed.

HAD NO ACCIDENTS SO FAR

The Owensboro Messenger says: Every stick of tobacco in the Green River territory has been cut and housed, and a large per cent. of it cured, according to reports received from the outlying sections of the district. The work of housing the year's crop has required considerable time, and many of the larger growers are now devoting their attention to the curing of the tobacco.

Despite the fact that the crop is an exceptionally short one, owing to the many unfavorable conditions during the earlier part of the season, it is conservatively estimated that there has been as much as 30,000,000 pounds of the weed housed throughout the district. Many fine specimens of the crop have been placed on display at the various tobacco houses and association offices, and the crop has proven to be the best, so far as quality is concerned, that has been grown in many years.

The method of curing with coke, which has only recently been employed by the farmers of this section of the State, has been used extensively this year, and there is not a day but that several farmers come to the city and purchase wagon loads of coke for curing purposes. The various hardware dealers have sold more curing furnaces this season than any previous season, but in many cases these furnaces are being used with coke.

A few years ago only wood fires were used to cure the weed, but those familiar with the various qualities of tobacco, claim that the weed leaves an unpleasant flavor to the tobacco, while the coke produces no smoke, and leaves the weed, after curing, in a most excellent condition. Besides, there is no danger of setting the tobacco barns or the tobacco afire with the coke, as no sparks are produced. As for that, however, there is comparatively no danger in using the furnaces with wood, as they permit no sparks to escape, but in case of tobacco falling from the barn and striking the furnace, which is necessarily very hot, a fire might be started at night.

One of the most noticeable features of this season's curing is that there have been no barns destroyed by fire in this section, while the crop was being cured.

FATHERS VOTED FOR HIM AND SONS WILL DO SAME

The Frankfort Journal says: Judge O'Rear, in his anger, attacks Kentucky, which he accuses of making no progress in the last thirty-six years. He rails because men who voted for McCreary for Governor, thirty-six years ago, are going to vote for him again. This is a part of his speech at Lawrenceburg:

"Have we learned nothing in Kentucky in the last thirty-six years? Then it was that the fathers of the men in this audience stood up and howled at John M. Harlan and hurrahed for McCreary. To-day the sons, many of them with gray beards, stand in Kentucky audiences and howl for the same man for the same office upon the same ground."

The people of Kentucky have learned a great deal. They have learned that Gov. McCreary can be trusted in any position to which he may be elevated. They have learned, from bitter experience, not to run after false and strange gods or politicians who hope to trick them with strange pleas. They have learned to know when a man is on the level and when he is making a play for votes.

Having learned these things, they will do as they did thirty-six years ago. They will elect James B. McCreary Governor.

A GREAT REVIVAL CLOSED AT POND RUN CHURCH

The revival at Pond Run Baptist Church near Echols, Ky., closed the night of the 12th inst. The meeting was a great success, there being 40 additions to the church, 29 by experience and baptism. Eld. J. H. Tow, of Rochester, Ky., preached for us about six days during the meeting. The pastor, Birch Shields, did the rest of the preaching, the meeting lasting for 10 days.

There have been about 75 additions to this old church, which was organized in 1820, in the last two years, they having at present a membership of 192. The Sunday School, which is an evergreen one, is doing splendid work for the Lord's cause.

The Ohio County Missionary Baptist Association meets with this church next year (1912), Wednesday after the 2d Sunday in August. It has been 45 years since they entertained the Association. We praise God for His manifold blessings toward us and are aiming to do greater things for Him in the future.

WRIGHT TESTS GLIDER BIPLANE

New Machine Runs Without Motive Power.

SIMPLY GLIDES LIKE A BIRD

Covers 700 Feet in the Air
By Steering Craft Into Brisk Wind.

A LITTLE UNWIELDY AT FIRST

Kitty Hawk, N. C., Oct. 20.—After days of preparation and waiting for a favorable wind, Orville Wright brought out of the hangar at the foot of Kill Devil Hill this morning the new glider biplane with which it is hoped to solve the problem of remaining in the air without motor power, and made seven flights. In the final trial, made just as the sun was dipping into Croatan Sound, he succeeded in staying in the air twenty-six seconds and covering a distance of 700 feet. Considering the fact that the wind was blowing but eleven miles an hour, the aviator was highly pleased with the day's work.

Whether the machine will do all that the Wrights hope, cannot be told until experiments are made with a 30-mile wind. It is at this velocity that the Wrights expect to accomplish great things. Under the conditions to-day, however, it was plainly demonstrated that the aviators have hit upon an idea which when fully developed may change the present scheme of flying.

The plan is to drive a biplane through the air precisely as a sailing vessel is tacked through the water. The only difference is that the horizontal planes take the place of the vertical sails. That they respond to the pressure of the wind was apparent the moment the glider left the ground on its flight, as it headed directly into the air current and did not settle until the wind, too weak to uphold the machine's weight and propel it forward, dropped it softly to the sand.

Two slight accidents, one of which would have been serious had the glider been driven by an engine, marked the flights. The first occurred the fifth time Mr. Wright left the crest of the hill, and the second on the following flight. Both were accounted for by the fact that it had been impossible to properly adjust the rudder wires and elevating plane before making the initial trials.

The glider was taken from the hangar at 8 o'clock by Orville and Lorin Wright with the assistance of Alexander Ogilvie, the English aviator. At the top of the hill, ninety feet above the tide, Orville Wright, clad in heavy woollen trousers, a red sweater that came to his knees, and wearing a wide brimmed hat of peanut straw, took his seat. At a signal from his brother Mr. Ogilvie launched the plane and it darted into the teeth of the wind like a giant gull. Then for an instant it hesitated, rose slightly, shot along 100 feet and settled.

The second, third and fourth flights were duplicates of the first, except that the machine remained a few seconds longer in the air and covered a little more ground. On the fifth attempt the big canvas bird soared upward until it was thirty feet from the hill, arose over a hummock and headed for the ocean. The party on the hill was cheering encouragement when the aviator was seen to be in trouble. In tilting the left plane the machine, instead of turning to the right and maintaining its altitude, shot toward the ground. In two more seconds, and when within eight feet of the sand, it fell like lead.

When the trials were resumed the glider was taken to an elevation of seventy feet. This flight was highly successful, the machine remaining in the air 22 seconds and covering a distance of 450 feet. In landing, Mr. Wright received a severe shaking up. The elevating plane was not large enough, and a new canvas, a foot wider, was placed in position.

In the final and most successful flight the start was made from a height of 100 feet, and the glider was raised to a height of fifty feet. For 500 feet it maintained this elevation, while keeping a straight line to the north in a ten-mile wind, then Mr. Wright threw over the control and the machine described a curve to the left until it settled like a feather. Stop watches showed it had been in the air 26 seconds and that it had landed a shade over 700 feet from the starting point.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 20.—"Missy," a French bull dog which has been the inseparable companion of Mrs. James P. Kernochan for eleven years, and was as familiar a figure on the fashionable drives about the city as Mrs. Kernochan herself, is no more, and "Missy's" mistress is nearly heartbroken.

In a handsome white coffin, lined with satin, said to have cost several hundred dollars, "Missy" was gently lowered to her rest in a grave on the lawn of the Kernochan estate. A white stone will mark the spot.

against the Court House Ring that is trying to dominate Ohio county politics.

Republican campaign managers
are using moving picture shows to illustrate features of their campaign.
It certainly takes rapid change of scenery to aptly portray the spirit of the Republican campaign.

The majority of the voters do not endorse the double-dealing methods of the Republican candidates—the plea of a temperance campaign run with funds collected by a wholesale whiskey distiller—and by their votes they will say so.

In his recent speech at Covington,
in speaking of the members of the last Legislature, Judge O'Rear said:
"Some of them ought to be serving in another public institution than in the Legislature." Of course the Judge referred only to those men who do not belong to his own political party.

Chairman McCulloch, who distills
a brand of whiskey said to be "without a headache," has given Judge O'Rear the worst political headache
a fellow ever had. And there is even a worse headache awaiting the participants in the water-and-whiskey
Republican campaign after the 7th of November.

It has been a matter of general
comment that some of the most prominent Republicans of the State,
and in a number of counties, are not at all enthusiastic about the success of their party's ticket. Evidently they do not care if it is defeated. There is a reason for this,
and in some instances you do not have to go any further back than the famous McCulloch letter to find it.

It is quite certain that one of the first bills offered in the Kentucky Legislature will be an act to prevent corrupt practices in elections. It will be presented by a Democrat,
will be passed by Democratic votes
and signed by a Democratic Governor.
If the people want their hopes transformed into deeds, they will vote the Democratic ticket and the realization will be certain and prompt.

Less than two weeks now until the election. Let all Democrats who take an interest in the success of their party's ticket, lose no time in these few days. It has been thoroughly demonstrated that it was the stay-at-home vote that has defeated
the Democratic ticket in recent years. This ought to be sufficient to arouse every Democrat to action.
Every vote counts and only by polling our full strength can success be expected at the polls.

In these closing days of a hot campaign you will probably hear tales detrimental to the Democratic candidates started by Republican bosses who have become desperate in a losing fight. These same bosses have threatened to spring sensations
before election day, and inasmuch
as they have not made good so far,
their scheming work may yet be looked for. It may be well to be on guard, though nothing they may spring should be believed.

Judge O'Rear sets himself up as a strong opponent of the Tobacco Trust, and yet he is running on a platform which endorses the administration of Gov. Willson—the most bitter enemy, outside the Trust, that tobacco growers have had in recent years. Almost every Ohio county farmer knows—in addition it has been printed by the Republican organ of Hartford—how Gov. Willson has taken a decided stand against the best interests of the tobacco growers.

Mr. M. T. Westerfield, the Democratic candidate for Representative from Ohio county, is making a winning race and the indications are
that he will be elected by a handsome majority. He is a man of splendid ability and one of whom all the people will be proud. He will not be simply a figure-head in the Legislature, but will know how to draw a bill and have it passed. He has no bosses, but is running in the interest of all the people whom he will serve. Vote for him.

Congressman Ben Johnson has strengthened himself wonderfully in the minds of the people of all classes
in his speaking tours through the State lately. From his colleagues in Congress and from those who are best acquainted with his work, have come words of praise for the man
that show how he has won his way into the estimation of his constituents by hard and successful labors
in Congress. Mr. Johnson is certainly the right man in the right place, with good chances of staying there.

If the Court House Ring at Hartford is let alone, they will continue to swap and trade for Republican nominations indefinitely, and matters political will continue as they are now, with no chance for a country Republican to have a show
at a nomination for county office.
While planning and plotting for the election of Judge O'Rear and the Republican ticket, they are keeping their own interests well in hand.
How long will the Republicans of Ohio county stand for this sort of thing?

Temperance advocates throughout the State do not want anything
more than the famous McCulloch letter to prove the insincerity of Judge O'Rear and the hypocrisy of the whole Republican campaign.
This letter broke the thin veneering
of an alleged temperance crusade on the part of the Republican ticket
and showed how money was being collected from the liquor interests to run it. Gov. McCreary has planted himself squarely upon a County Unit platform, and nothing has or will happen to show his insincerity
in the premises.

Upon the first page of The Herald
to-day will be found our explanation
and amends for publishing the Ross letter about Mr. C. E. Woods. There are two sides to most matters of controversy and we think the article explains what led up to and how we came to be involved in a matter
into which we entered, and from which we are departing with the utmost spirit of honesty, justice and good will. We do not think we were altogether and alone blamable
in the matter, but in whatever way
we were accountable or culpable, we make amends free from malice,
or wrong intent in the premises.

We have not seen any of the moving pictures being shown by Republican bosses in the present campaign,
but there is one which could be ac-
tied out before a motion picture machine that would make a very suggestive illustration, but which we will venture will not be exhibited.
It would show a man walking towards the State Capitol at Frankfort in the peaceful pursuit of his public duties. Just as he nears the building, a gun is thrust from behind a blind in the Secretary of State's window, there is a shot and the man falls mortally wounded.
Few people would fail to recognize this picture.

At last the light seems to have penetrated the dense political atmosphere that surrounds the Hartford Republican and it found that the merchants of Hartford and the public generally, made serious objections to its scurrilous account of the big Democratic rally here. It intimates that some of the business men have been "talking behind its back." In behalf of these men we would say that none of them has said a word that he would not repeat to the editor's face. The Republican will perhaps learn after a while that it is the best policy to speak of public matters—even of
the opposite political type—fairly,
or remain silent.

O'REAR'S FAMILY RIDE ON RAILROAD PASSES

While the Judge Condemns This Practice in His Public Speeches.

Proof of Judge O'Rear's inconsistency and insincerity is being furnished in heaping measure as the campaign proceeds. It is easy to take up every position he has assumed, and show by the record that his private views and acts are at variance with his public protestations.

The very latest evidence against him on this score, is in the matter
of free passes, and has been produced by the Lexington Herald. In a speech accepting the Republican nomination, he referred to the Constitutional provision against the use of free passes by public officials, and he pledged himself, if elected Governor, to see that a law was placed upon the statute book enforcing that section. Since his nomination, he has frequently condemned the railroads for issuing such passes, and public men for accepting them, and has pointed to it as a fruitful source of corruption.

On the very day that Judge
O'Rear arose in the State Convention and condemned the use of free passes, his family rode from Frankfort to Louisville on passes issued by a railroad, and it is fair to presume that they could not, and would not have accepted these favors from the railroad without the knowledge and consent of Judge O'Rear.

It is just as culpable for the family of the Judge of the Court of Appeals to ride on free passes as it would be for that official himself to receive such favors, and it violates the spirit if not the letter of the Constitution when he permits them
to put him in that embarrassing position.

This charge was openly made by the Lexington Herald, and it has been substantiated by others. So far, Judge O'Rear has not made any explanation of how it happened that he could be so bitterly opposed to the railroads giving free passes to public officials when his own family
profits by the practice.

In his speech at Bowling Green,
Judge O'Rear condemned the railroads, because, as he charged, they have for many years secured control of the Legislative Committees.
If this is true, it is most reprehensible, and calls for the severest condemnation; but so long as Judge O'Rear's family continue to be the guests of the railroads in their journeys about the State, his criticism will be received with suspicion
and with doubt as to his consistency
and sincerity.

Foley's Kidney Remedy vs. a Hopeless Case.

Hon. Ark J. E. Freeman says: "I had a severe case of kidney trouble
and could not work and my case seemed hopeless. I used several well known kidney remedies, and had the services of a doctor, all of which gave me no relief. One large bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured me and I have never been bothered since. I have also recommended it to my friends who all received the same good results." For sale by all druggists.

OLATON.

Oct. 22.—Miss Sudie Felix, of this place, and Mr. James Hoover, of Friedland, went to Owensboro last Tuesday morning and were quietly married. They returned that night to the groom's home. They are two of the most popular young people in the county. We wish them a bright and happy future.

There is considerable sickness in this community. Mr. Ansel Mulli-more, of this place, who has typhoid fever, is improving. Roy Cummings,
of near this town, has typhoid fever.
Mr. W. H. Lyons is on the sick list.
Mr. T. W. Daniel, of Olaton, was the guest of his brother, Mr. J. C.
Daniel, of Central City, last Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Arms, of Leitchfield, was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. L. Arms,

here, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. J. W. Miller and family, of Friedland, were the guests of Mr.
C. B. Lyons' family last Sunday.

Dr. J. S. Bean and wife, of Olaton, were the guests of Mr. C. D.
Bean, route 1, yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Lyons, of Olaton, is the guest of Mrs. S. J. Pence and Mrs. Will Miller, in Louisville.

Mr. Sammie Davison and wife, living near Barrett's Ferry, and Mr.
James Hoover and wife, of Friedland, were the guests of their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. B.
Felix, last Sunday.

Born to the wife of Mr. Lewis
Martin, the 22d, a fine boy.

THE MAIN OBJECT IS TO GET OUT THE VOTE

Every indication now points to a large vote at the coming November
election, and with a large vote, Democratic success is assured. The cause of Hager's defeat in 1907 was not due to Democrats voting the Republican ticket, but it was caused by fifty thousand Democrats staying at home on election day. It now seems that we are not going to have the stay-at-home vote to contend with at the coming election, and that a full Democratic vote will be polled throughout the State. Democrats, and not a few Republicans, are sorely dissatisfied with the Willson administration; in fact, some of the members of the Governor's official family say that Governor Willson is a complete failure, and that he has brought discredit to the State. With such a condition existing, it looks like an easy job to defeat O'Rear
and his ticket. However, Democrats should leave no stones unturned,
and there should be no letting up in the battle that is now being waged
until the fight is ended and the victory announced.—[LaRue County Herald.

Billousness is due to a disordered
condition of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish billousness positively and effectually. For sale by all dealers.

COL FRANKS NOT SPEAKING FOR HIS PARTY'S TICKET

Col. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, erstwhile candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, who was sacrificed to make an O'Rear
holiday and completely flattened out by the "machine," was in Frankfort this week. What he had to say of the political situation was not calculated to be encouraging to the O'Rear candidacy. Some wag handed Col. Franks a pamphlet purporting to be the "Pennsylvania Republican Campaign Book," but which was in reality a brochure on each
page of which was the one word,
"rotten." He was asked if he could find any use for the book in providing material for his speeches in behalf of O'Rear's election, and it is said, promptly retorted: "Yes, I can use it for all the speeches I will make in this campaign." Strenuous efforts have been made to get Col.
Franks on the stump, but to all entreaties he has turned a deaf ear, it is said.—[Louisville Times.

A Household Medicine That Gives Confidence

Is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mrs. T. J. Adams, No. 522
Kansas Ave., Columbus, Kas.,
writes: "For a number of years
my children have been subject to coughs and colds. I got some of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and have found that it cured their coughs and colds in a very short time, so I keep it in the house all the time." For sale by all druggists.

Your Votes Solicited.

Some unknown friend has placed
me in nomination as one of the contestants for the piano to be given away by Messrs. Fair & Co., and as I am absent from home teaching school, I take this method of requesting my friends to vote for me
when purchasing goods at Fair & Co.'s store. Any favor extended in this way will be highly appreciated
and gladly reciprocated when opportunity is offered.

MAXWELL.

Oct. 21.—Miss Hattie Mae Barr,
who had been visiting Miss Lattie Sparks, of Hartford, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nance, of this place, went to Owensboro Wednesday.

Mr. J. T. Newcomb and son Jesse,

Mrs. Flora Watson went to the same place Thursday.

McCREARY WAS A BRAVE AND GALLANT SOLDIER

At the Green River Bridge fight
on the 4th of July, 1863, Lieutenant-Colonel James B. McCreary, then a dashing young officer, had the unusual experience of having three of his commissioned comrades killed at his very side while consulting them
as to the light then in progress. The men were dismounted for the charge
of the stockade guarding the bridge,
while the field officers were mounted. When receiving orders from Col. Chenault, a well directed shot from the enemy struck and killed
the gallant Colonel. Assuming command of the regiment Col. McCreary sent for Capt. Terrell, senior captain, to assume charge of the left of the line. While instructing Capt.
Terrell, a shot from the stockade

LEASE OF LIFE BRIEF FOR PAROLED CONVICT

John R. Walsh Dies One Week
After Being Released
From Prison.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—John R. Walsh, former banker, publisher and railroad owner, released a week ago
from the Leavenworth Federal penitentiary, died to-day of heart disease.

Mr. Walsh had been in bed most of the time since his arrival here from Leavenworth, October 15. He had been attended constantly by physicians. Intermittent reports of Mr. Walsh's failing health during his incarceration had been denied at the penitentiary. On his release it was plain that he had aged, and he gave up plans for resumption of his position as a financial leader and took to his bed.

Mr. Walsh was seventy-four years old. Death came just nine days after his release on parole from the Federal penitentiary, where he had been sent on charges of misappropriating funds of the bank to the use of other enterprises.

Mr. Walsh's health failed soon after his entrance in the penitentiary. An immediate movement to obtain his release on parole was begun
by members of his family, Mrs.
Mary L. Walsh and his two sons,
Richard W. Walsh and John W.
Walsh. At that time the examining physician at the penitentiary said
Mr. Walsh was suffering with hardening of the arteries.

Orville E. Babcock, a son-in-law, declared that Mr. Walsh's death was due to delay in obtaining Walsh's release from prison. Mr. Babcock held President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham responsible for that delay.

BEHIND WITH THE JURORS IS THE STATE'S RECORD

The Cadiz Record says:

The State of Kentucky now owes
the Jurors of Trigg county $1,315.
88, $527.03 of which has been due for over sixteen months, and the balance of it has been due nearly nine months, and still there is no prospect of this money being paid any time soon. Gov. Willson has squandered nearly $300,000 of the people's money during his administration in scattering soldiers broadcast throughout the State, with very little if any good accomplished.

These soldiers have been paid their money promptly, but you jurors
who are forced by the law to serve,
must wait from twelve to eighteen months for your money. And Judge O'Rear endorses all this in his platform. So if YOU want this state of affairs to continue, then vote for O'Rear and his crowd of hungry pie-hunters; but if you do not, then vote for McCreary and the Democratic ticket. You may not have had to serve on the jury during the past two years, but you cannot tell how soon you will be forced to.

Take Your Common Colds Se- riously.

Common colds, severe and frequent, lay the foundation of chronic diseased conditions of the nose and throat, and may develop into bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption. For all coughs and colds
in children and in grown persons,
take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming
on, take Foley's Honey and Tar
Compound. It checks and relieves.
Use no substitutes. The genuine is in a yellow package always. For sale by all druggists.

HARD BLOW FOR DEFENSE IN THE McNAMARA CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 23.—At the close of court to-day, in the Mc-Namara murder trial, five talesmen
were excused for various reasons.
The half empty jury box was filled
again and only ten men of the original venire of 125 were left.

"Under the law and the evidence,
I am convinced that Juror George W. McKee is qualified to sit and the court rules that the challenge of the defense is disallowed."

In these words to-day Judge Walter N. Bordwell, sitting in the case of James B. McNamara, delivered the first formal ruling in the matter of the qualifications of jurors, and at the same time struck a severe blow at the defense. The challenge was interposed by the defense when Mc-Kee asserted that he had a strong belief that the Times building was blown up by dynamite, and the belief was so strong that it would require strong evidence on the part of the defense to remove his opinion.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP AND ROB PAYMASTER

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 21.—One of the boldest holdups in the history of Breathitt county took place on the Fish Trap Branch to-day about ten miles above Jackson, where a band
of five masked men held up D. F.
Dury, paymaster for Lane Bros., on the L. & E. extension.

A demand that he surrender $6, 000, which he had just drawn from one of the Jackson banks and was taking to the camps, was followed by a fusillade of shots. Dury attempted to make his escape, but his horse threw him and he lost his saddle-pockets containing the money.
Dury escaped unhurt. Officials immediately telephoned to Lexington
for bloodhounds to trace the robbers.

PATRICK NEEDHAM IS GIVEN HIS LIBERTY

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 23.—Gov.
Willson to-day pardoned Patrick J.
Needham, of Louisville, who is serving out a fine of $750 in jail for conspiracy to defraud a life insurance company. He has been in jail
since December, 1910, and the Governor says he has been sufficiently punished and is the only one of the conspirators who has been punished.
The Commonwealth's Attorney has remitted his part of the fine and the Governor remits the State's part today, and Needham will be released.

Rev. J. W. Bruner, of the Baptist Church, preached his farewell sermon here last Sunday morning and night, before moving with his family to Center, Tex., as announced last week. Rev. Bruner has endeared himself greatly to the people of this vicinity during his stay here and all regret to see him and his excellent family leave. He is an able, zealous preacher, deeply earnest in his work, and has done much good in this community. He leaves with the very best wishes of everybody for his continued success.

On Tuesday night of last week, in a fit of rage and jealousy, Buncom Render, a well known colored man of Hayti, Hartford's negro settlement, shot and instantly killed Tom Castle, also colored. Castle, however, was not the man Render intended to kill, but another negro, whom he thought had been disrupting the felicity of his home by paying too much attention to his (Render's) wife. Render thought he was slipping up on a meeting of the two. Render came to Hartford, surrendered to the authorities and was placed in jail.

Mr. Arthur J. Freivogel, of Mascoutah, Ill., and Miss Bonnie Dever, of Hartford, were married at the Methodist parsonage here by the pastor, Rev. T. V. Joiner, last Friday night. It was quite a surprise to local society, as it was not generally known that the two were sweethearts and this was the groom's first visit here. He stayed only a few days and took away one of our prettiest girls as his bride. Mr. Freivogel is an employee of a flouring mill at Mascoutah, and seems to be an industrious, competent young man.

The First Christian Church of Hartford will be dedicated next Sunday with appropriate exercises. This church building has been greatly improved since it was purchased from the Methodist folks, and lately has had new pews and carpets put in. The pastor, Eld. W. B. Wright, who has been called to the church for another year, will preach the dedicatory sermon and there will be special singing exercises. The congregation is not large, but industrious and earnest and the progress they are making in church circles is a matter of general comment.

Mrs. Bettie Rowe died rather unexpectedly at her residence on Union street, Hartford, late Sunday evening, of lung trouble. She had lived in Hartford about all her life and was 79 years old at her death. Only one child—Miss Mary Rowe—survives her. Another daughter, Mrs. Henry Field, died a short time ago. Funeral services were held at the home residence yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. T. V. Joiner, of the Methodist church, and interment was at Oakwood. Thus another of our old citizens has gone to the reward of a good life.

United States Depository.

The Bank of Hartford has been chosen by the authorities at Washington as a United States Depository for the funds of the Postal Savings Bank to be started in Hartford tomorrow, October 26. This is quite a compliment to an institution noted for its safe and conservative management. A full explanation of the Postal Savings Bank and its workings was contained in a recent issue of The Herald.

Purdue Kills Colburn

Larkin Purdue struck and killed Charlie Colburn at Sunnydale, Sunday evening about six o'clock. The killing was the result of bad feeling existing between the parties for several months. It is said that Colburn was under the influence of liquor, hunted Purdue up and was advancing on him with a knife when struck over the head with a baseball bat. Colburn lived about two hours after being struck. Purdue came to town Monday morning and surrendered to the authorities and is under guard waiting the action of the grand jury.

Boring For Oil Near Hartford.

The West Kentucky Oil Company, composed principally of local capitalists, has arranged to drill for oil at a point about seven miles north of Hartford, near Concord church. An expert driller and superintendent has been employed, active work will begin about November 1 and continue as conditions permit. An extensive area of land has been leased along the anticline of Ohio and McLean counties. The State Geologist, after a thorough examination, has given a most favorable report of oil indications in the region being worked, and it is expected the venture will prove a splendid success. This is possibly the only oil field in Kentucky to be tested under scientific investigation.

Former Senator McCreary in a speech at LaGrange Monday, defended his administration as Governor in 1875-79 and declared that the three greatest panics in the history of the country were caused by Republican National Administrations.

CALL FOR A "GREATER KENTUCKY" CONVENTION

To be Held in Louisville, November 14-15—Mayor Appoints Delegates.

So many questions of vital importance to the future of Kentucky are pressing upon the people of the State for discussion and wise solution, that it seems important again to call together in conference representative men from all parts of the State to consider present conditions and desired reforms and feasible methods of advancing the prosperity of the State. Such conferences heretofore held have resulted in great good, developing a better understanding of the needs of the State and a closer co-operation among its progressive citizens, and promoting a clearer understanding of what can be done and how best to do it.

In this spirit such a State conference is called by the State-wide organizations which we represent, to be held in Louisville Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14 and 15. The subjects to be discussed will cover the field of Kentucky's needs. It is desired to have in attendance the live, public-spirited men of every county and city.

At our request the Louisville Convention and Publicity League will make all arrangements for the entertainment of the convention.

We are asking all County Judges, Mayors of cities and commercial and agricultural organizations to appoint a number of delegates, not less than five each, whose interest can be counted on, and whose advice will be valuable.

GEO. H. COX, Owensboro, President Federation of Commercial Clubs.

J. W. PORTER, Lexington, President State Development Association.

NOTE—Mayor James H. Williams, of Hartford, has appointed the following delegates:

R. E. L. Simmerman, Dr. E. B. Pendleton, Jno. T. Moore, A. C. Yeiser, W. H. Barnes.

Mr. Billy Johnson took two wagon loads of sheep to Beaver Dam last Saturday.

Mr. Albin Shull left for Illinois last Wednesday to husk his corn. He will be gone about three weeks.

Mrs. Kitty Brown died the 15th and was buried the 16th at Taylortown cemetery. Her funeral was conducted by Rev. Eply, of Rochester. Aunt Kitty was born in Ohio county November 7, 1824, was married to Alexander H. Brown October the 6th, 1842, lived near Prentiss and in Taylortown until 1858, then moved to Arkansas, where she lost her husband and one son. During the war, in 1865, she moved back to Ohio county, where she lived until her death. She professed religion about the year 1844, joined the Baptist church at Cool Springs, lived in that church until 1890, then joined the Methodist church at Taylortown. She leaves six children to mourn her departure.

Mrs. French Brown, of near Pond Run, died October 8 and was buried at Mr. Ed. Williams' the 10th. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Birch Shields. She leaves a husband and three little children.

More Than Enough is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all dealers.

State Inspector Todd has filed with the Governor a report of an investigation in Graves county, which alleges that $35,634.85 is due the Commonwealth from county officials.

ONLY WHITE MAN IN ENTIRE BLOCK

Said of the Residence of Justice Hughes.

ROWS OF NEGRO TENEMENTS

Surround His Magnificent $100,000 Palace—Pickaninnies a Plenty.

HIS SURROUNDINGS CHANGED

Washington, Oct. 20.—When Justice Charles E. Hughes of the Supreme Court takes possession of his $100,000 home, which will be finished in a few weeks, he will be the only white man living in the block on the street on which his house faces.

Soon after President Taft appointed Gov. Hughes to the Supreme Court he came to Washington and spent several days looking for a house. He was not satisfied with anything on the market and rented a large old-fashioned house in Massachusetts avenue (extended) for his first season.

Then he and Mrs. Hughes spent many afternoons house-hunting, but they were disappointed again and decided finally to build a home. Justice Hughes said at the time that as he expected to spend the greater part of his life in this city, he wished to have a home that satisfied him in every particular.

For a long time he debated whether he would build in Massachusetts avenue or Sixteenth street, the two most select streets in the city. He chose the latter finally and bought a good-sized lot on the corner of Sixteenth and V streets.

The lot has a frontage in Sixteenth street of about 30 feet and 100 in V street. In order to have an effective entrance, he decided to have the residence face V street. There was no other house of any sort in V street. The property had been held for years at a high price and remained vacant.

Shortly after work was started on the Hughes home the entire frontage on both sides of V street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets was announced for sale at a greatly reduced price. The land had to be sold and was bought in by a speculative builder who started the construction of 20 two-story "box" houses.

The houses were completed six weeks before the roof was on the Hughes house. The houses did not appeal to white purchasers or tenants and were promptly offered to colored people, who hastened to locate in such a "swell" neighborhood. Although they have been on the market but a short time, 17 of them are occupied.

The colored residents of the national capital are famous for the size of their families. Their children are usually endowed with healthy lungs and like to play in the middle of the streets.

When Justice Hughes purchased the lot for his home, Sixteenth and V streets was considered one of the quietest locations in the city. There were no street cars within two blocks and no other annoyances.

NOW HERE IS YOUR MAN, SENATOR BRADLEY

In the only speech that Senator Bradley has made in this campaign he said that he would not pay any attention to the "intimations" being made by irresponsible people that there was any taint on his election to the United States Senate, but he would demand an investigation if any responsible person made the charge. Here is your man, Senator Bradley. At Danville in a public speech Hon. Ben Johnson, the Congressman from this district, charged that it cost $65,000 to get the four Democrats in the Legislature to vote for Senator Bradley. Nothing could be more specific or more direct than this. It is an open charge of corruption and bribery, and while Mr. Johnson does not charge that Senator Bradley furnished the money, he does charge he was elected by money that was put up to secure four Democratic votes for him. Congressman Johnson is a thoroughly responsible man in what he says and will stand by his statement. He is financially responsible, as well as otherwise. Senator Bradley, with this statement which has been printed in nearly all the newspapers in Kentucky, you have certainly seen it. Were you merely bluffing or did you mean what you said in that Ashland speech? If you did mean it, there is no reason why you should not demand an investigation at once. Either Bradley has to demand an investigation or rest under the charge of Congressman Johnson, which is generally credited by most of the people of Kentucky. [Elizabethtown News.]

DAFFYDILLS.

Now, if the file in a rasping tone should call the auger a bore, And the monkey wrench a nut from the vise, would the plane just smooth things over?

If the house was full and the water drunk would the hose reel all around?

And if the waters could speak as they flow, how would Long Island Sound?

If you board a spell at a shore hotel is the billow that you pay?

If a single car weighs several tons how much does the whole subway?

Can a scavenger be a cheerful man when he's always in the dumps?

If the water pipes in a dance hall burst would the dancers use their pumps?

If a Harvard oarsman rows in a shell what does the salmon roe?

If no grass grows in the frozen North, what, then, does the Eskimo?

If a gun missed fire would a parachute? This stuff gives me pain.

If a bullfrog wore a hobbie skirt would the lily pad—and hark?

If a thief broke into a drugstore do you think that the dogwood bark?

If a parrot can swear can a crocus, too? Enough, ere we all grow ill!

This is the frivolous sort of think that is dubbed a daffydill.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS TO FINISH CAMPAIGN

With Oratorical Whirlwind—Big Speakers Will Be Here in Force.

Some of the best speakers in the Democratic party will take the stump in Kentucky during the remaining days of the present campaign, among them being William Jennings Bryan, Governor Harmon, Senator Robert L. Taylor and Senator John W. Kern. Mr. Bryan will tour four districts October 30 and 31, making the trip aboard a special train, and speaking at various points along the route from the rear platform of the last coach. He will be accompanied on the trip by former Senator James B. McCreary and Congressman Ollie James.

A rally will be held at Sebree, Webster county, Wednesday, when speeches will be made by Congressman Swager Sherley and H. V. McChesney.

Saturday, October 28, a big rally will be held at Williamstown, when speeches will be made by Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, E. J. McDermott and Mr. McChesney.

Congressman Ben Johnson and former Congressman Rhea spoke at Elizabethtown Tuesday and Congressman A. O. Stanley and H. V. McChesney will speak in Ballard county October 31.

Governor Harmon is scheduled to speak at various points in Central Kentucky October 27 and 28. He will make his first speech at Maysville, but the other points have not been decided upon as yet.

Other speakers scheduled on that date are:

Ollie James, Lagrange; E. P. McDermott, Versailles; A. O. Stanley, Owenton; Senator Taylor, Hopkinsville; Ben Johnson, Springfield; James Garnett, Edmonton; W. A. Cullop and Judge J. A. Sullivan, Bowling Green; Edgar Hager, Cynthiana; H. V. McChesney, Flemingsburg; Swager Sherley, Eddyville; John S. Rhea, Lancaster.

THE HIGH COST OF SOULS

—LATEST QUOTATIONS

Rev. "Billy" Sunday, the former baseball player, who has conducted evangelistic meetings, in almost every part of the country, has succeeded, he thinks in reducing the saving of souls to a businesslike basis. He has gone so far as to make an estimate of the cost of soul-saving in various cities. In Mr. Sunday's cost sheet, Indianapolis souls come highest at $620 each.

New York City souls are quoted at $545, while in Boston they can be obtained for $450. Other quotations are: Denver $425, Chicago $395 and New Orleans $78.

So far as Mr. Sunday has made investigations, souls came cheapest in Atlanta, where they may be saved for $75 a head—if souls have heads.

"Billy" Sunday's figures have aroused much mystification and considerable adverse criticism. Atlantans complain because souls are so cheap and Indianapolis people because they are so dear. The general impression seems to be that "Billy" Sunday acquired the percentage habit in his baseball days and hasn't been able to shake it off. —[Success.]

Is the World Growing Better?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers everywhere to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at James H. Williams.

GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT

Lebanon, Ky., Oct. 20.—John Bowman, a young farmer of this county, who has been on trial since Monday, charged with assaulting Miss Minnie Lamb, a young country girl of this county, was found guilty at a late hour last night and sentenced to die in the electric chair, the jury being out only thirty minutes.

It will be remembered that in the early spring of this year Bowman, together with Clarence Alford, also a young farmer of this county, were arrested, charged with criminally assaulting Miss Lamb on a Sunday afternoon at a lonely spot at Sulphur Springs, near this town, forcing her by threats of violence to yield to their criminal assault.

Excitement ran high at the time of their arrest and they were hurried to the Jefferson county jail for safe-keeping.

Outside of the regular panel of jurors of Marion county it was necessary to summon 100 men from Boyle county. One jurymen was selected from Marion county and eleven from Boyle county. Alford is now in jail here awaiting trial, which is set for the January term of court.

MORE REMINISCENCES OF OHIO COUNTY BOYS

In the Confederacy—Beautiful
City of Atlanta Goes Up in Flames.

Our last article ended the campaign from Dalton to Atlanta, lasting just four months. That last day's fight at Jonesboro ended the campaign. Atlanta was evacuated the night after the fall of Jonesboro. The powder magazines were blown up, which shook the earth for miles. At the same time the city caught fire and every building in that beautiful city burned to the ground. Next day Sherman's army took possession of the city, but they found nothing there but a heap of ruins.

Marchall Ney's rear guard did not suffer any more on Bonaparte's retreat from Moscow than the Orphan Brigade suffered on that campaign from Dalton to Jonesboro. Ed. Porter Thompson says in his History of the Brigade, that 842 non-commissioned officers and privates were killed, wounded and taken prisoners, of whom only 200 had been captured, 180 rank-and-file had been killed at various times, and 530 wounded. Gen. Hardee reported the loss of the Brigade to be greater than that of any other Brigade in the corps.

Now what the boys had always hoped for had come. What remained of us were ordered to Barnesville to be mounted. Notwithstanding our previous hardships, what remained entered into the project with great zest. Lieutenant Foreman with about half of our company were taken prisoners, but a special arrangement was agreed to between Sherman and Hood to exchange certain prisoners and our boys made prisoners in the battle of Jonesboro were on the 19th of September exchanged, so our company now numbered about thirty, including the officers that were to be mounted. Some, however, who were wounded never came back to be mounted. There was a detachment that never was mounted from all the regiments, so there never were more than 80 of the Brigade mounted.

After refreshing our horses, we remained at Barnesville but a short time till we moved up to Newman, Ga., to cover Hood's rear as he started on his march back to Tennessee. We followed him across the Chattahoochee river, then we turned back and recrossed the river and marched back to a little town, by the name of Stockbridge, twenty miles South of Atlanta, where we remained until the 15th of November, when Sherman started on his march to the sea.

Gen. Wheeler had come back from Tennessee and taken command of all the cavalry around Atlanta and made preparations to meet Sherman's great army as it moved through that beautiful country, burning and devastating everything in its wake. Now I have heard that there was a song composed, called "Sherman's March to the Sea." I have never heard that song and if I were where it was being sung, I would leave. Any one having seen what the writer saw, how Sherman's men burned the commodious homes and laid waste the beautiful plantations, could never listen to that kind of national air.

Our Brigade was on the outskirts of that great army as it moved through the country, keeping the marauding parties from pillaging the country. We were skirmishing every day and taking prisoners whenever chance offered. Some times we would have as many as 25 prisoners at a time and when they became burdensome to us, we would hand them over to the Texas Rangers. What they did with them we never knew.

At one time, as we moved on Sherman's left, we got too close to his main army. They got us in such close quarters that we had to cross a swamp one night to extricate ourselves. The night was cloudy and no moon and we marched about five miles among cypress trees in water waist-deep. We could never have got out if we had not had a guide. Next morning we went in camp, killed a hog and dug some sweet potatoes to prepare a meal, when the Yankees fired on us. So we threw out a skirmish line and held them back till we got ready for them. Then they retreated.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT IS DUE TO DEMOCRATS

To listen to the Republican speakers, one would think that the Republican party in Kentucky had originated the common school system, and were the only people that could be trusted to bring it to perfection. As every friend of education in the State knows, there is no law on the Statute book in regard to education that was not put there by Democratic legislators, and while Kentucky has not made the advancement in this respect that it should have done, great progress is being made, and with the election of Governor McCreary, further improvement is sure to follow. The fact that we have better teachers, who are paid better salaries, and that there are more schools in Kentucky now than ever before, is all due to the reorganization of the public school system under the School Board. This Act was passed in 1908 by a Democratic Legislature, and was drawn by Mr. J. A. Sullivan, who is Governor McCreary's close personal friend, and a member of his Campaign Committee. The Democratic party can be trusted to build upon this admirable foundation a noble superstructure that will place Kentucky where it belongs, among the greatest educational States in the Union.

VICTORY FOR WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE COMES AT LAST

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—California has voted to enfranchise her women.

With the votes all but counted in the Golden Gate State, the suffrage amendment is assured of a majority of 2,051 votes and the final returns may make the figures higher than that. It was a day of wild exultation throughout the State. The women had snatched a victory out of defeat and they were beside themselves with joy.

Particularly in San Francisco, where the Suffrage Amendment had been defeated by a majority of nearly 14,000 votes, was the spirit of rejoicing let loose in all its vigor and intensity. Women embraced and kissed one another indiscriminately and all personal and sectional differences were forgotten in the glad word that suffrage had won.

Club women, college women, working women and just plain women joined hands and hearts in one great happy throng and sang and shouted the California verdict so long and lustily that it must have been heard around the world.

Jas. C. Dahlman, "Cowboy" Mayor of Omaha, "Throws the Lariat."

Major Jas. C. Dahlman is of an interesting and impressive personality. Starting his career as a cowboy, he is at present Mayor of Omaha, and has the following record to his credit: Sheriff of Dawes county, Neb., three terms; Mayor of Chadron, two terms; Democratic National Committeeman, eight years; Mayor of Omaha, six years, and in 1910 candidate for Governor of Nebraska. Writing to Foley & Co., Chicago, he says: "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and they have given me a great deal of relief, so I cheerfully recommend them."

The November Woman's Home Companion.

The November Woman's Home Companion contains an article by President Taft of interest and importance to every woman. It is an appeal to the women of our country to help the President in his efforts to get the Senate to assent to the arbitration treaties, which, if signed, will go a long way toward abolishing war. It would be a great achievement, and the President believes that women can help bring it to pass.

Aside from this very important feature the November Companion contains a mass of good reading, beautiful illustrations and useful suggestions.

The great housekeeping, home decoration, household and fashion departments are, as always, filled with entertaining material, of time-saving and money-saving value to women. At this time of year special mention should be made of the fashion pages, which, under the able direction of Grace Margaret Gould, the well known fashion authority, are a veritable directory of good, economical and yet fashionable ideas for women readers.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Elias Hatfield, aged forty; Troy Hatfield, aged thirty-five, and Octavo Gerone, an Italian, aged thirty-eight, the three participants in a pistol battle started by the Italian, are dead, as a result of a controversy that started over the question of boundary between saloon properties.

The two Hatfields are sons of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud that raged in the southern part of West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky from ten to twenty years ago and true to the saying so often heard at that time, they died with "their boots on."

The trouble yesterday that resulted in the death of all three participants grew out of a friendly agreement between Carl Henson, proprietor of a saloon at Cannelton, two miles from Boomer, where the Hatfield boys owned a saloon, that neither would encroach upon the territory of the other. Gerone lived at Harewood, half way between Boomer and Cannelton, and it was there that the two Hatfields went yesterday to persuade the Italian not to deliver beer in the Hatfield territory.

Although the trio had previously been good friends, Gerone became enraged, drew his revolver, and as the two Hatfields stepped from the doorway, fired four shots, two taking effect in each of the men, who dropped to the ground. While lying before the doorway, out of which Gerone leaped, Elias, who was the first to fall, drew his revolver and fired. Troy, the brother, did likewise and in an instant five shots sank into the body of the Italian, who fell dead. A moment later the two Hatfields died, and a few hours later four brothers took possession of the dead. To-day they will take the dead brothers to Holden, Logan county, where burial will be made within sight of the place where "Devil Anse" a few weeks ago was converted, baptized and declared he would henceforth live a Christian life.

Passersby found the two brothers lying in the road. Elias was dead but Troy was still alive and managed to articulate, "You don't need to hunt for the man who did this; he is dead, too," before he died.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Hartford People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay.
If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles surely follow. Act in time by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for sick, weakened kidneys. Many people in this locality recommend them.

Here's one case:
J. C. Weatherholt, High street, Cloverport, Ky., says: "Two years ago I did not think it possible that I could ever be well again, in fact, I had settled up my affairs. I cannot describe the misery I endured from pains through my back and whenever I stooped, they became so sharp that it really felt as if some one were thrusting a knife into my kidneys. I was often very dizzy, dark spots floated before my eyes and I had to grasp something to keep from falling. My joints became swollen to twice their natural size and I lost weight rapidly until I was a mere skeleton. The doctors' medicines or the many guaranteed cures that I tried, did not help me and finally it was my good fortune to hear about Doan's Kidney Pills. I immediately procured a supply and I was greatly surprised by the results received. Before I had taken contents of the second box, there was a marked improvement and I continued using them until I was completely cured. I am now as well as any man in this county and I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

A BOOKKEEPING CHANGE IS TOBACCO TRUST PLAN

Present Organization More Tolerable—Charge Made by Attorneys General.

New York, Oct. 23.—In protest against the proposed dissolution plan of the American Tobacco Company the Attorneys-General of Virginia, North and South Carolina today submitted formal objections to the judges of the United States Circuit Court. They charge that the plan is a bold attempt to nullify the judgment of the United States Supreme Court and declare the present status is more tolerable than the plan proposed.

"The plan turns loose no assets and no agency," the attorneys-general set forth "by which the American Tobacco Company maintains its absolute dominion over the tobacco trade. Its avarice for power and its utter unwillingness to loosen its grip on the tobacco business is strikingly illustrated in its refusal to give up one of the least of its subsidiaries, R. P. Richardson, Jr., & Company, incorporated, although that company has petitioned to be allowed to do an independent business." The attorneys-general assert the dividing of the company into several working organizations will effect a change in bookkeeping only, and that it will be dismembered only as the hand is divided into fingers. To have real competition there must be antagonistic interests, whereas the trust plan, they say, maintains a community of interest between all the companies it is supposed to create.

TAYLOR MINES

Oct. 21.—There was a dance here at the hall Saturday evening. Had a large crowd from McHenry and Beaver Dam; good music and splendid order.

Miss Algia Tichenor left Friday evening for Centertown, Ky., to visit her mother.

Mr. Wavie Lyles, of Taylor Mines, left Thursday for California.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Ament Saturday evening and left a large boy weighing eight pounds.

Mrs. George Hoffner, after several weeks of illness, departed from this life, Friday at 10 o'clock a. m. Funeral services were held at the church by Bro. Harper Saturday at 2 o'clock. Her remains were laid in the cemetery at 3 o'clock p. m.

Mr. O. V. Lyles, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Mr. B. F. Hudson, who has been ill of typhoid fever, has completely recovered.

LOWER COURTS SUSTAINED —ALSO FORCED TO PAY

The Owensboro Messenger says: The supreme court of the United States on Monday denied the writ of certiorari in the case of Conway and others against Nat. Alsop, and the defendant will now be forced to pay the double liability for the stock he held in the Owensboro Savings Bank and Trust Company at the time that concern went to the wall. The judgment against Alsop is for $9,000.

The case was first tried out in the federal court for the Western district of Kentucky, over which Judge Walter Evans presided. An appeal was taken to the district circuit court of appeals, and there the judgment of the lower court was affirmed. The writ of certiorari was then issued and the case sent to the supreme court, where the former judgments were again sustained.

TWO SETS OF TWINS CAUSE MAN'S SUICIDE

Maysville, Ky., Oct. 23.—Lee Hay, 31 years old, a former section boss on the C. & O. railroad here, committed suicide at his home in this city by taking carbolic acid.

Two years ago his wife became the mother of twin boys, and last Thursday she presented him with twin girls. Being out of work, with no money and two sets of twins to take care of, seemed to prey upon Hay's mind, making him despondent. He bought the acid, took it home, and, after kissing his wife and babes, swallowed the poison, falling across the bed in the same room with Mrs. Hay, expiring in a few minutes.

His deed so upset the sick woman that she failed to nourish the newly born twins, and early this morning one of them died from lack of proper food. Mrs. Hay is in a serious condition and may not survive the shock.

Utica Stable Burns.

Early Saturday morning the stable on the farm of Frank Collins, at Utica, was destroyed by fire. Two horses and all Mr. Collins' farming implements were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $400, with no insurance. The fire broke out about 3 o'clock in the morning. No fire had been in the stable for a long while, and no member of the family had been in the stable since Friday evening, when the horses were given their night feed.

Aged Minister Injured.

Rev. J. W. Brewer, of the Whitesville vicinity, a retired Christian minister, while attempting to step from a street car in Louisville Friday morning, had his heel caught on the step and the starting of the car threw him to the street. He struck the street with much force and received injuries which are thought to be serious and it is feared he has received internal injuries. He returned home Friday afternoon.

Farm Laborers Scarce.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 23.—One of the most serious problems the farmers of this section of the State have to face at the present time is the securing of competent farm laborers. There has been a scarcity of farm tenants for several months, but now, at the busiest season of the year, it is almost impossible to find help, and those that are available are not capable of handling the work.

The President signed Monday the proclamation declaring the neutrality of the United States in the war between the Ottoman Empire and Italy.

Muhlenberg county is said to have the best tobacco crop this year it has had in many years. The yield per acre is not the largest, but the quality is exceptionally good.

For Sale, Farms—All sizes, from 6 to 300 acres. We can please you if you want to buy land.

The Artistic Temperament.

A famous singer was undergoing the ministrations of the ship's barber.

"I 'opes," said the barber, "that we shall 'ave the pleasure of 'earin' you at the concert tonight."

"No," explained the famous singer, "I've had a long and exhausting season in America and within a few days I am to open in London. I have decided not to do anything on this voyage."

"It's the same way with me," said the barber understandingly. "When I'm hashore I never looks at a razor."—Success Magazine.

A Legal Holiday.

"Bindleworth seems to rather look upon his wife with awe."

"Yes, I met him yesterday, and he wanted to borrow $5 from me. I asked him why he didn't go to his bank for it, and he replied with surprise that he was unable to conceal."

"Why, bless me! I'd forgotten that the banks were open today, just the same. You see, this is my wife's birthday."—Chicago Record-Herald.

This Hard, Cruel World.

Mrs. Crawford—You can have all the bread and butter you want, but no more cake.

Willie—Say, ma, how is it I can never have a second helping of any of the things I like?—Lippincott's.

Vulgarity.

"Why do you say he is vulgar?"
"Because he has at least ten times as much money as I have."—Chicago Record-Herald.
